AMA Chief Says Family Doctor Will Be Dodo

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No less an authority than Dr. Dwight Locke Wilbur, president of the American Medical Association, says the practice of medicine will change drastically over the next 10 to 15 years.

"It won't be what people want—or think they want. But it will be what they need, the best medical care possible under the circumstances of those times," Wilbur said in an exclusive interview dealing with current and future problems of medicine.

In the future, the family doctor will be almost as extinct as a dodo. When you're hurt or sick, you'll go to the nearest hospital for emergency treatment, administered by physicians especially trained in these procedures.

If necessary, you'll be referred to a specialist, working not in a private office but in a large center with other specialists, sharing facilities they singly could not provide.

You may not even see the doctor on your initial visits. Your case history will be taken by assistants—even, eventually, by computers. Trained aides may do some of the preliminary examination.

"Group practice is the growing trend," says Wilbur. "It saves the doctor's time—there aren't nearly enough of them to go around—and it saves the patient's money."

The kindly old gentleman with the bedside manner was wonderful in his day, Wilbur says, but society can no longer afford him. The modern doctor is more efficient, more scientific and less subject to error.

Unfortunately, he is often more impersonal. But people are already beginning to accept this, Wilbur says, as they are beginning to accept changes in all areas of personal service.

"It's part of a normal trend in society," he says. "In all forms of human service, there is less concern for the individual. We are no longer served as well as we used to be in stores and restaurants. The relationship between people and those who provide them with services is deteriorating, and there is no chance of its return."

As the current president of the AMA Wilbur directs the professional policy of 215,000 of the nation's 300,000 physicians. He was born and bred to be a physician. His father, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior under President Herbert Hoover, was president of the AMA in 1923. His brother

Blake is a physician and so are two of his three sons.

Despite his high office, Wilbur now 65, is a practicing physician—he came to the interview from a round of hospital calls. And when he leaves his AMA post next June he'll happily resume his specialty as an internist. "I'll be glad to get back," he says. "I'd rather do that than anything."

Humphrey Not Likely To Duplicate Truman's Stunning 1948 Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spite of many similarities between the presidential campaigns of 1968 and 1948, changed voting patterns are likely to make it difficult for Hubert H. Humphrey to duplicate Harry S. Truman's stunning upset victory.

The national opinion polls show Republican Richard M. Nixon running substantially ahead now as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was believed to be in 1948.

Democrats hope that candidates for governor and Congress will pull Vice President Humphrey to a plurality in closely contested states as some of them aided Truman in critical areas in 1948.

One factor is the possibility some development might give Humphrey a last-minute surge, perhaps a Vietnam bombing halt that could promise some real progress toward peace.

Coastal Help

Without this, Humphrey counts heavily on some local Democratic candidates to provide him with the kind of coastal help that Adlai E. Stevenson, running for governor, and Paul Douglas, running for the Senate, gave Truman in Illinois in 1948.

In that year, Truman won Illinois' 28 electoral votes by a margin of 33,612 out of more than 3.9 million popular votes. But times and voting patterns have changed in Illinois and, perhaps even more importantly, elsewhere.

The eight states Truman carried in the South 20 years ago gave him 99 electoral votes, providing the margin of his 303-189 win over Dewey. The then Democratic Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina collected 39 as a Dixiecrat candidate.

Thurmond, now a Republican senator, is leading the Nixon forces in the politically splintered area that once was the solid Democratic South.

Wallace Is Strong

There are clear signs that third-party candidate George C. Wallace won't stop where Thurmond did 20 years ago. Thurmond won only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Wallace is strongly in the running with Nixon for the Southern states that Truman carried, including Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Outside the South, Wallace's vote could cut into Humphrey's strength, as Thurmond's support did not do in Truman's case.

However, Henry A. Wallace, running on the Progressive ticket, cost Truman New York's 47 electoral votes 20 years ago. Dewey topped Truman by only about 61,000 in the popular count while Wallace was polling 509,000, of which a substantial number probably would have gone to the Democratic nominee.

Industrial States

The major parties discount George Wallace's appeal in New York state.

The Wallace vote could also make the difference in other key states. The Republican assumption is that he will take blue-collar votes that otherwise might have gone to Humphrey.

The Democratic contention is that he will take away some of the antiadministration protest vote from Nixon.

Because he had a relatively strong Southern base, Truman won in 1948 by carrying only five of the nine largest industrial states—California, Illinois, Ohio, Texas and Massachusetts.

Without a secure Dixie base, with little hope for Illinois where Nixon counts himself strongest, and facing a stiff challenge in Texas, Humphrey can hardly afford to duplicate Truman's losses in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey.

Jackie Termed 'Public Sinner'

ATHENS (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis' bridegroom of four days left her for the first time today, interrupting their honeymoon to fly to Athens on business.

While shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis worked at his downtown Athens office, his bride remained on his palatial yacht Christina moored at Scorpios, his private island in the Ionian Sea 300 miles northwest of Athens.

Onassis was expected to fly back to Scorpios tonight to rejoin his bride.

At present, Onassis is negotiating a $360 million contract with the Greek government for an industrial complex consisting of an oil refinery, aluminum plant and related installations.

At the Vatican, meanwhile, experts on Roman Catholic canon law said no matter what Richard Cardinal Cushing says, the Roman church considers that the new Mrs. Onassis is living with another woman's husband.

Cardinal Cushing, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston and a close friend of the Kennedy family, said Tuesday it was "a lot of nonsense" to say that President Kennedy's widow had excommunicated herself by her marriage to Aristotle Socrates Onassis, a divorced member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

It is technically correct that she is not excommunicated, canon lawyers and marriage experts at the Vatican said, but they explained that her church regards the new Mrs. Onassis as a "public sinner" and as such she is barred from receiving the sacraments, such as confession, communion and extreme unction. She may still attend Mass, however.

These sources said the church does not consider the former first lady married to Onassis because it does not recognize his divorce and still considers him married to his first wife, the former Tina Livanos. The first Mrs. Onassis is now married to the Marquess of Blandford, a Briton.

Canon lawyers said there are two courses open to the former Mrs. Kennedy if she wants to get back in the good graces of her church: leave Onassis and receive absolution, or get a ruling from the church courts that his first marriage is invalid and marry him in the Roman church.

There has been speculation that Cardinal Cushing arranged some sort of agreement for the Vatican to accept the Kennedy-Onassis marriage last weekend, but lawyers at the Vatican said they had no knowledge of anything like that.

The Vatican's press spokesman indicated the Vatican would have nothing to say about the cardinals' remarks.

Workers Moving From Slum Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) The Labor Department reports 300,000 workers have moved out of the nation's worst slums in the last twelve months.

The department, in releasing a report it said covered the worst slums in 100 cities, said Wednesday the workers apparently moved into better urban neighborhoods.

About a third of those who left the worst areas were Negroes, said the department.

The report added the unemployment rate in the slum areas dropped from 6.6 per cent of the total labor force to 5.9 per cent. The national jobless rate is 3.6.

Deaths At Low In Vietnam War

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported the lowest weekly American death toll in more than 14 months, hard fighting in the demilitarized zone in which at least 112 North Vietnamese were killed, and the loss of seven U.S. aircraft in South Vietnam in the past two days.

The total of South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also dropped last week, and the reductions resulted from the lull in ground action which has prevailed for three and a half weeks.

U.S. spokesmen said despite the fighting along the northern frontier and the aircraft losses, it was too early to say whether the lull was ending. They said the fighting in the DMZ was the result of allied operations, not the enemy's initiative.

The seven aircraft lost to enemy groundfire included a fighter-bomber, three light observation planes and three helicopters. Five men were killed and five were wounded.

Although there was still no word that Washington and Hanoi had agreed on a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam so as to advance the Paris peace talks, the South Vietnamese government appeared to be making a gesture toward getting the talks moving. It announced it would release 140 prisoners of war before the end of the month the largest POW release of the war.

Nixon Talks Of GOP Victory In Michigan

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The crowd, chilled by cold, damp winds, huddled close together as Richard M. Nixon attempted to warm them with talk of Republican victory in November.

"We're moving in this critical state, and we're going to win," said Nixon, who discarded his raincoat as he stood on the steps of the W.W. Kellogg Civic Auditorium to address an outdoor rally in Battle Creek.

"I don't care what the polls show," the GOP presidential candidate added as he turned to the national scene. "I don't care that they do show us ahead."

"As far as this campaign is concerned, we're going all out between now and next Tuesday and we're going to sock it to 'em all over the country."

Michigan Swing

The crowd that had gathered under the gray skies cheered as Nixon thrust his fist emphatically over the lecturn. Much of the noise was generated by high school students who will not vote Nov. 5.

Nixon, making a three-city campaign swing Wednesday across Michigan, talked to nearly 3,000 persons at Tri-Cities Airport in Saginaw, to nearly 8,000 at a downtown rally in Battle Creek and more than 6,000 at the Civic Auditorium in Grand Rapids.

Wallace Target For Hecklers

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — George C. Wallace, bothered in recent days by objects thrown at him while speaking, goes to New York's Madison Square Garden tonight.

"I don't like to get thrown at, but I guess it's all part of the game," Wallace said after he was struck in the face by a coin Wednesday during a speech in Youngstown, Ohio.

The previous day, in Oshkosh, Wis., the presidential candidate was struck on the shoulder by an apple core.

"This is something new in this campaign," Wallace said. "But I've been thrown at before and I'm used to it. I'm certainly not afraid."

During the speech at Youngstown, the following objects sailed toward Wallace from the crowd, in addition to the coin—a penny—which hit him on the cheekbone without injury; A spool of electrician's tape, a rock the size of a softball and an egg which smashed about 20 feet behind him.

"That's it, throw something," Wallace yelled after he was hit. "You're quite a fellow, you are. I can take anything you anarchists can dish out, remember that."

After the Youngstown speech, Wallace flew to Virginia's Shenandoah Valley for a rally, one of the most successful of his campaign, at the Roanoke-Salem Civic Center.

The speech was to a standing-room-only crowd of 7,000 or more, and amplifiers placed outside broadcast Wallace's message to the hundreds who could not get in.

Vote Important

"I want you to know that it can be said that while usually one vote may not make a difference, in Michigan this year, the vote you cast may make the difference between carrying Michigan and carrying America."

Except for the enthusiastic Saginaw boosters, crowds seemed to cool after their initial warm response to the candidate.

In Battle Creek, hecklers sported Humphrey banners and hoisted them above the crowd. A Nazi flag was held aloft in the auditorium in Grand Rapids, when Nixon was introduced. A small group of hecklers interrupted the former vice president's evening address with shouts of "Nixon go home!" and "We want Humphrey."

Federal, State Rulings Oppose Local Actions

There apparently will be two different time standards in Delta County Sunday.

Under provision of the United States Uniform Time Act, residents of the area are supposed to turn clocks back to Central Standard Time at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Under resolutions passed by the Delta County Board of Supervisors and the City Council of Escanaba, at least part of the county will remain on Central Daylight Time until after the Nov. 5 election.

Neither the Board of Supervisors or City Council has taken any official action changing either of its resolutions, which were similar in urging residents to vote "No" on the Nov. 5 time referendum and to remain on the present time until after the election.

City Stays Same

That means that city and county offices will continue to function on Central Daylight Time, the same as Eastern Standard, while state and federal offices are under mandate to revert to Central Standard Time.

City Manager George Harvey of Escanaba said today that he is under Council resolution to remain on Central Daylight Time and unless Council changes that position the city will not change its clocks.

Escanaba Postmaster James Pryal reported that the Post Office will run on Central Standard Time and that "presumably" so will other federal offices.

Donald Goulais of Escanaba, assistant attorney general, said that state offices and businesses controlled by state regulation like taverns also will operate on Central Standard Time.

Several members of the Board of Supervisors met to discuss the problem in the office of the Escanaba Daily Press this morning, but there was no action from that meeting which changed the resolution the Board of Supervisors passed last week.

'No' Vote Urged

The resolution urged voters of Delta County to vote "No" on the time referendum Nov. 5 and further urged residents of the county to remain on Central Daylight or Eastern Standard Time until after the election.

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapek said that if the state votes "No" on the time question, then a Michigan law passed by the State Legislature in 1967 will prevail establishing Eastern Standard Time for the entire state.

Solomon Beinenfeld, Lansing, assistant state attorney general, had a different interpretation of the situation. He said Wednesday that Michigan's Legislature has no authority to change time zones established by the federal government which place the Upper Peninsula in the Central

D.U.S. Assists Red Cross Work

(Tenth Of A Series)
First Aid and water safety classes, disaster relief services, the Junior Red Cross and the Blood Bank are well known services offered to the citizens of Delta County by the local chapter of the American Red Cross, a member agency of the Delta United Services fund drive.

The Red Cross, however, considers its most important function, a mandatory one, to be the aid of the serviceman and his family. In Delta County this aid is coordinated by Mrs. Betty Hamilton, executive secretary and only paid worker of the local chapter of the organization, who is responsible for all emergency messages and verifications.

Mrs. Hamilton maintains liaison with field directors in the United States and overseas in order to notify servicemen in the case of family illness or death, or to look after their financial needs.

For example, if a serviceman who has been in Vietnam is sent on Rest and Recreation and does not have the necessary funds, the field director contacts Mrs. Hamilton, who in turn contacts the serviceman's family to ask if they will authorize a loan for him. If this can be arranged, the money is DETROIT (AP) —The presidential limousine waited.

Some 600 persons at a convention of the National Association for Retarded Children waited.

Secret Service agents moved into Detroit Metropolitan Airport and took precautionary steps.

But President Lyndon B. Johnson never showed up in Detroit Wednesday night.

And reasons remained unclear today behind the President's absence.

Although there was no official notification to newsmen in Washington that Mr. Johnson would attend the convention, officers of the National Association for Retarded Children said they had been informed authoritatively that the President's visit was certain.

After the limousine and Secret Service men were withdrawn from the airport, the association held its convention with Muriel Humphrey, wife of Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey, filling her role as scheduled main speaker.

Mrs. Humphrey, long active in efforts to aid retarded children, received the association's Distinguished Service Award.

And President Johnson sent from Washington a telegram saying the association widely chose Mrs. Humphrey for the honor because, in the field of the retarded, "she cares and she acts."

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The first reported case of a new strain of Asian flu from Hong Kong has been identified in a laboratory worker at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Identification was made from throat swabbings of the patient.

Public health officials predicted late in the summer an influx of the virus disease which has been prevalent in the Orient.

University doctors said the case may be isolated, but noted the patient had not traveled to the Far East.

The disease reportedly is expected to be mild for most people but possibly could be serious for young children and elderly persons.

Several drug firms are reported working on an improved vaccine for the flu strain.

Snowmobiles Must Be Licensed As Of 1969

By BOB VOGES
LANSING (AP) — The sport of snowmobiling is snowballing in Michigan.

So many people are buying the versatile little machines, that the Secretary of State's office frankly says it doesn't know how many there are in Michigan.

"The trouble is people are buying them every day. We know there are some two snowmobile families. But by the middle of next year, we should have a pretty good idea how many there are in the state," said an information officer for the Secretary of State's office.

The 1968 Legislative session passed a law requiring that snowmobiles be registered starting in January 1969.

The fee will be $5 for a three-year registration, good through 1971. If a vehicle is registered in 1970, the fee will be only $3. A 1971 registration will cost just $2.

The law provided for a misdemeanor penalty for anyone operating a snowmobile without a license.

The only exception is if the owner uses a snowmobile only on his own property.

If anyone is caught operating a snowmobile without a registration on other than his own property — "Here Comes Da Judge!"

The penalty is a misdemeanor, with the fine up to the local judge handling the case.

Starting in January, snowmobile owners may register at any Secretary of State's department branch office.

Room count resulted in a tie between Mrs. Constantineau's fifth grade and the senior class.

Mrs. Roy Bergstrom, Halloween Carnival chairman, reported on ideas and suggestions by her committee and she received a "go ahead" from the members.

An increase has been made in the membership dues to give the organization operating funds and a number of fund raising projects were suggested: school memento books, identification tags and bracelets, "Join the PTA" bumper stickers. Interest was shown in the latter.

Mrs. Dolores Viau and Mrs. Harvey Arken volunteered to serve on the PTA Youth Council and the Rev. Charles Beckingham, PTA president, announced the appointment of Paul Blewett as Legislation chairman.

Mrs. Hector Larson, president of the Rheaume-Knauf American Legion Auxiliary, announced that packages would be sent to servicemen from the school district and that three-pound coffee cans were needed for the packages. Processed Potato Trend Eases

U.P. Spud Business Sees Market Shift

By J. L. HEIRMAN
Delta Agricultural Agent

Potato growers have been asking: What is the future of potato production in the Upper Peninsula? The reason for the question is obvious.

Potato farmers were told that the market picture is changing fast to potato processing instead of fresh usage. To sell for processing there must be a processing plant in the area and thus far the Upper Peninsula has been looked at but passed over for other areas in the establishment of sizeable potato processing plants.

Just three or four years ago there was a feeling that we were rapidly going to a total potato processing program. We doubt that this will happen. At the present time we are processing about 50 per cent of our potatoes in the United States and the other 50 per cent is still consumed as a fresh vegetable.

Fresh Preferred

There are signs now that we are leveling off on potato processing and that many people still want fresh potatoes. If this holds true, the Upper Peninsula's potato enterprise is very much in the picture.

We in the Upper Peninsula can compete in the fresh potato market. We have many things going for us. We are closer to centers of population than Idaho or Maine, the two leaders in potato production. Our climatic conditions are also favorable for potato production. Most of our soils are well adapted to potato production if the fertility is maintained properly.

The potato enterprise is like any other agricultural enterprise of today. Farmers must be large enough to warrant complete mechanization, or the costs will squeeze them out. Labor for picking and handling bags of potatoes from the field is a thing of the past. Harvesters and bulk handling in wagons are must!

Casing

The Upper Peninsula's potential for modern potato growing and marketing will be discussed by a panel of experts under Michigan State University sponsoring at the U.P. Potato Show at Iron River on Nov. 7.

Marketing Problems

Once the potatoes are in storage there is still plenty of work connected with packaging and marketing. Here again mechanization must come in. The day of hand forking potatoes into a grader is gone. Can you visualize the cost of labor needed to hand fork 25,000 bushels of potatoes? Today a front end loader on a tractor picks up 20 bushels in one scoop, puts it in a bulk box and from there conveyors do the rest.

We feel the Upper Peninsula has a future in producing potatoes for the fresh market. We also feel we can grow certified seed potatoes for other areas because of our isolation. We can triple our output of potatoes in the Upper Peninsula and we will only be back to the acreage we once had when potatoes were grown on almost every farm. If the acreage gets back to what it was some 25 years ago our total yield will be far greater because only those with knowhow remained in the business.

Radcliffe Dorm Off Limits For Paar's Lion Cub

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Radcliffe College has told Randy Paar, daughter of television personality Jack Paar, that she would have to find some place besides a school dormitory to raise a 10-week-old lion cub.

Mrs. Gerald Peabody, house chaperone at the off-campus Shepard House, discovered the cub's presence Monday after she heard the animal make "a funny noise."

She then learned that the lion had been living with Randy and 30 other upperclasswomen and had even been taking strolls through the neighborhood on a leash.

"He's very friendly and he doesn't bite," she added.

But the college rules do not allow for keeping a house cat, much less a lion, in the dormitories and Randy agreed Tuesday to take the pet home to her father this weekend.

Paar likes lions and brought three home last summer from a trip to Africa. He eventually gave them to a Florida zoo and the zoo owners had asked Randy to care for one for a while.

License Examiner Aids In Capture

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit license examiner played detective recently to help police catch a subject wanted for armed robbery and probation violation.

Ahmed Mozham, examiner at a Detroit secretary of state's branch office, noticed that a birth certificate submitted by a driver license applicant was badly smeared and mutilated.

A check with the Detroit health department showed the certificate was stolen and led to arrest of the wanted men, the secretary of state's office said.

Hospital Wins 3 Year Approval

St. Francis Hospital has been informed by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals that it has been accredited for three years, or until a subsequent survey is conducted.

The accreditation, Sister M. Hildegard, administrator of the hospital, was informed, results from an evaluation of the hospital survey conducted on Sept. 10 by Dr. William C. Stafford.

The hospital was accredited for one year in 1967 and the three year accreditation now conferred recognizes performance of changes recommended at that time by the accreditation agency, which has as members the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and American Medical Association.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Joint Commission, wrote Sister Hildegard: "The Commission commends you for maintaining standards deserving of accreditation and for your constant effort to improve the quality of patient care."

THE NEW PRESIDENTIAL LIMOUSINE delivered to the Secret Service in Washington has a glass enclosure over the passenger compartment with a center section hinged so that it may be opened. This permits the occupants to stand in the passenger compartment during parades. The rear bumper of the 21-foot custom-built Lincoln Continental can be lowered like a tailgate and converted into a platform for Secret Service agents. Lincoln coins have been in Presidential service since President Coolidge's day. This model, developed by Lincoln-Mercury engineers, Lehmann-Peterson, Inc., Chicago custom car builders, and the Secret Service has passenger compartment with regular rear seats for three and three rear-facing theater-type seats. Cost has been estimated at $500,000. However, the practice has been for the government to lease the presidential vehicles.

School Vote Nov. 5

Voters of the Escanaba Area School District will ballot in the Presidential election on Nov. 5 on a proposal to levy a tax of 4.9 mills for one year to pay for the operating expenses of the district schools.

This will be the sixth effort since Aug. 30, 1967 to get enough taxes to pay for operation of the area's schools. All other five elections resulted in defeat of millage proposals. (There have been four different amounts proposed in the election series.)

School authorities and friends of the schools — and that should include all of us — must be a little flaky by now, after all those clobberings, about what to say that might cause enough voters to change their minds so the millage could win.

We have no indecision about this. We're convinced that once enough people understand what the millage is about that it will be passed. There's quite a bit of emotionalism mixed up in motivation apparently because the millage should be moving toward passage and it's been see-sawing in the elections. Side issues have influenced voter reaction.

One of the largest such issues was the lack of bus service when the school year started. The buses were kept in the barn as an economy measure. Such an inconvenience, expense and turmoil resulted that the board of education ordered the bus service restored, although it lacked the money to pay for the service.

That's one of the things this election is about, but not directly, because any millage authorized in the Nov. 5 election will be too late to apply on this year's school budget. We have missed that boat.

Area school operation in the present year will cost $2,581,681, according to a budget adopted by the board of education on Oct. 16, and estimated income is $2,460,487. This means a deficit of about $121,000 for the school year, which must be made up later.

To this prospective deficit add another deficit carried over from last year. This earlier deficit varies greatly in size depending on how the books are kept, whether on a cash or accrual basis. It could be $65,000 by one reckoning and $6,600 by another. For taxpayers who aren't accountants, we suggest only that there's a deficit of size.

We hope the voters get the clear picture that the schools are costing more than they are receiving in income and that as a result a debt has been created and is being enlarged.

The millage election Nov. 5 asks voters to whittle down this debt, so they won't be paying their money for interest on debt instead of for the education of their children.

But it means much more than that. Much, much more.

The basic issue in the election is not whether the voters are going to give the board of education enough money to keep the schools open and the buses running.

It is what kind of a school program will be operated.

The new school budget still is an "austerity" budget with no improvements in the school program. Under it our area schools will fall behind those of more progressive school districts.

The local school program might be described as having been of the strong, traditional type. The more progressive districts are operating what might be called "modern" schools.

Even with the millage there will be difficulty in maintaining a traditional type program and people who want advanced schooling for their children simply won't get it. This will, of course, inevitably influence the community's growth.

The budget for the area schools will be supplied 42.4 per cent by local taxes, 54.6 per cent by state aid and 3 per cent by federal aid.

Most of the proposals for school finance reform suggest that the local district bear half the cost of schooling its children. The Escanaba Area School District is not doing this and would not be doing it even if it voted the 4.9 mills on Nov. 5.

Schools have become more expensive. The economies being forced upon them by "No" votes on millage will not close them nor stop the buses, but they will certainly destroy their quality and it is their essence. A second class schooling is a handicap for life.

The Great Unveiling

Rebels Just Chips Off The Old Block

By RAY CROMLEY
 WASHINGTON (NEA) — Work by a ministerial research student at the University of Chicago suggests that there may not be a Generation Gap after all.

The student activists he has studied don't seem to be rebelling against their parents' views. They seem to be copying them.

In Rev. Lamar Thomas' study, in fact, they seem more closely and rigidly associated with their parents' views than do average nonactivist students.

A main factor contributing to student activism, according to Thomas, is dedication by the student's parents to political causes—open or closed occupancy, civil rights, poverty.

The liberal students Thomas studied all turned out to have liberal parents. The conservatives all had conservative parents. He found no instance in his sample in which a student had changed from liberal to conservative or conservative to liberal.

Eighty per cent of the students said they preferred the same party as their parents. Nineteen per cent were independents. Only one had shifted to another political party.

Except for the activist students whose views "were just about identical with those of their parents," the conservative students tended to be a little less conservative than their parents and the liberals a little less liberal than their fathers and mothers.

There seems, in this sampling, a greater tendency for children of liberal parents to become activists. This activism meets with approval from their parents. In fact, the liberal parents in general said they would like to see their youngsters even more active than they are, even if it took some time from study.

Thomas said that previous studies had shown that most activist students came from homes where parents had some college education.

This reporter has no way of knowing whether the Thomas study is valid. It was based on a very limited sample. But it does raise some very interesting questions.

Are then the student riots, demonstrations and marches by and large backed by most of the parents of the rioters, demonstrators and marchers? Are students doing what most of their parents would like to do themselves? This is a sobering thought.

Everyone should have the right of equal chance. Of course we know that not everyone gets that right. But if the chance comes by, they've got to be prepared to grab it because it may not come by twice. — Brig. Gen. Frederic E. Davison, third Negro in history to win a general's star.

Today, in a time of the affluent many, labor's fight, America's fight, must be for the disadvantaged few — the victims of racism, poor education, no skills, language barriers, hunger.—President Johnson.

Students Request Black Holidays

DETROIT (AP)—Three Negro students asked the Detroit Board of Education Tuesday night to establish three black holidays: Rosa Parks Day, Dec. 1; Malcolm X Day, Feb. 21, and Martin Luther King Day, April 4.

Arthur Johnson, deputy superintendent for community relations, noted that the board already has designated Martin Luther King's birthday as a time for special observance in the schools.

Johnson suggested that Mrs. Parks, a leader in the Montgomery bus boycott, be invited to attend a board meeting in January and that a resolution be adopted honoring her. He said social studies classes should study a resume of the life and works of Malcolm X on Feb. 21, the anniversary of his death.

School Supt. Norman Drachler told the students they would have a chance to plan the observance of Martin Luther King Day in the schools.

Today's hand is what is frequently called a "book hand." The reason is that something like it appears in most books on play to illustrate how a good declarer can substitute certainty for a guess if he is lucky.

This book hand was actually dealt and played in the World Bridge Olympiad match between the United States and Switzerland last summer. It goes to show that these book hands occur in real life.

Arthur Robinson of Philadelphia, who held the South cards, wasted no time getting to seven no-trump after Bobby Jordan opened with one diamond. He knew that at worst the grand slam would depend on finding the queen of diamonds and, when dummy hit the table, Arthur saw that the worst had happened.

He won the heart lead with the ace, cashed his king of clubs and led the jack of clubs to the ace in dummy. When West showed out, Arthur was ready to see if he could not get a complete reading on the diamond suit. He did with no trouble by running off the spades and hearts. East had to follow to all the spade and heart leads so that Bobby could account for 12 of his cards. Three spades, three hearts and six clubs.

Arthur led a diamond to his king. East followed and Arthur was able to finesse against West's queen and make his contract without any worry. That is, any worry at that stage. He had worried plenty when he saw the dummy.

There is one interesting point to the play that makes the hand special. Arthur was careful to leave the high club in his hand. If diamonds had broken 4-0, this would have given him an extra entry to take two diamond finesses and make the grand slam against that break also.

College Life Has Father Worried

Dear Ann Landers: My son left for college a few weeks ago. I would like to send the college president a letter but my wife won't let me, not even anonymously. Perhaps if you print it he will see it. Thanks. Just sign me — Concerned Dad.

Dear College President: I am sending my boy to college because it is better than sending him to Vietnam. He is a good boy but I'm worried because from what I hear and read, colleges aren't what they used to be. For example, our son says cars were not allowed on your campus but the kids decided they wanted cars and they told the administration to go jump in the lake. Your reply, Mr. College President, was: "We would prefer that students not bring cars but if they bring them the old rules will not be enforced."

I hope you have some faculty members of fine character who can inspire young people. From what I hear, several of your teachers line up with the students and make life hell for the administration. I also hear your dorms are "co-ed" till all hours and the students laughingly call the campus a bordello subsidized by the taxpayers.

Above all, I hope you will keep in mind that I can't support this kid for the rest of his life. Please give him some vocational training. — CONCERNED DAD

Dear Dad: Here's your letter but I doubt that you will be swamped with replies from college presidents. Will you settle for a student? If so, I'll print the best response.

Dear Ann: I love my wife but I don't know what to do about her lying. I give her my paycheck and take a few dollars for myself. She is supposed to pay all the bills.

I'm a person who likes to keep my credit clean. My wife dribbles away money and hides the unpaid bills and dunning notices. When I call her on it she cries and says she "forgot."

What should I do? I hate to insult her by taking over myself. — RICK

Dear Rick: You won't insult her. You'll relieve her. She is clearly incompetent for this job and you're a boob to let her wreck your credit. Give her an allowance and pay the bills yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is being married this fall and has decided she does not want children at her wedding or reception. Sue says too many weddings have been ruined by noisy kids and she is not going to allow anything to mar the beauty of her day. She is emphatic on the point that there will be no one under high school age.

I agree with my daughter's point of view but wonder how to tell people tactfully when they ask if their young children are included. — V. E. M.

Dear V. E. M.: People of taste do not try to allow children unless the invitation specifically says "And Family" on the envelope. If someone asks, simply say, "Sorry, Sue does not want anyone under high school age and we are respecting her wishes since this is HER day."

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Senior Citizens Housing Project Still Uncertain

The construction of a low-cost housing facility for senior citizens of the Escanaba area is still uncertain, it is reported by City Manager George Harvey.

The proposed housing development for low-income elderly at rentals of not more than $50 a month is to be located in the 500 block on the south side of Ludington St. It is to be a high-rise apartment type tower building.

"The entire project, contrary to published reports, still hinges on the Department of Housing and Urban Development's okay which has not been acquired to date," Harvey reported to the City Council.

The recent report that HUD had approved the project plans was "not totally correct," he added.

"HUD had approved our program reservation, which is merely one step towards the completion of the project."

"Some communities have had program reservations for years and have never even finished one project," the city manager explained. "What we are waiting for is the approval of our development program from the Chicago office which, in effect, is the verification that our price per unit is within line and then, a more or less rubber stamp approval from Washington, D. C."

"The problem that we could encounter is that each delay tends to modify the developer's cost due to the increase in wage and materials costs. If more delays obstruct our progress, it is conceivable that we would have to go back to HUD for modification in our program reservation which could start the entire process over again. We are hoping that this won't happen," Harvey reported.

Last week the senior citizens' housing project developers and architects from Milwaukee surveyed the Escanaba area for local participation in the proposed building, regarding contractors, plumbing, heating, and so forth.

The east two-thirds of the 500 block of Ludington St. is proposed to be cleared of existing structures to make room for the housing for the elderly.

"The latest thought on this project is that because of the winter approaching and also because of the relocation problems, we are shooting for Feb. 1 as the starting date," Harvey said.

"Presently, we are looking for local concerns to handle demolition which, of course, is essential prior to construction."

One of the larger commercial establishments to be removed from the area is the CW Transport Co. trucking terminal (formerly the Olson Transportation Co.) which will be located in a new 17-door terminal now being constructed in the 2100 block, N. 19th St.

Essex Returns Golden Apollo 7

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Apollo 7, whose 11-day space flight was accompanied by the curiosity of millions, was quietly brought ashore here today and unceremoniously loaded onto a truck for the last leg of its momentous journey.

Only a few bystanders were at docksides when the golden, gleaming spacecraft arrived aboard the carrier USS Essex to which it had been brought after splashing down Tuesday in the Atlantic.

There was none of the excitement today that welcomed earlier spacecraft ashore at such points as Mayport, Fla., when a crane lifted Apollo 7, tilting it slightly and spilling gallons of water from its blackened heat shield.

Officials said the Apollo 7 could have absorbed as much as 2,000 gallons during the short period it was afloat off Bermuda before it was carried by helicopter to the Essex.

Not even its three-man crew — Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Lt. Col. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham — was on hand today. They were flown Wednesday to Cape Kennedy.

The gold foil covering the 32,389-pound spacecraft has peeled and flaked in spots, but enough remained to give it a shiny, festive appearance.

Apollo 7 is to be trucked to a nearby airfield to be flown in an Air Force C130B to Long Beach, Calif., where it will be hauled to the North American Rockwell Co. plant for study.

Radio Changes

Howard Fontaine, personnel manager at Harnischfeger Corp., indicated that the company would follow the official position of the City of Escanaba.

Oliver Christenson, general manager of the Escanaba Paper Co., said that the time made no difference to Mead Corp., and that the company probably would follow local rulings.

Both local radio stations — WDBC and WLST — reported they are under order by the Federal Communications Commission to observe the legal federal time, Central Standard.

Elsewhere, Ferdinand Lesica, Schoolcraft County clerk, reported that the situation is being reviewed in Schoolcraft County, where the Board of Supervisors earlier passed a resolution in favor of Eastern Standard Time.

Alger County will operate under Eastern Standard time like it did last winter.

Plane Search At Keweenaw

HOUGHTON (AP) — Search parties were looking today for a twin-engine plane with three men aboard missing on a research flight over Lake Superior and the Keweenaw Peninsula.

The plane left Madison, Wis., Wednesday for a low level mission at about 50-foot altitudes.

Federal Aviation Agency officials said the plane, owned by the National Center for Atmospheric Research Agency of Boulder Junction, Colo., and chartered by the University of Wisconsin, left Madison at about 11 a.m. (CDT) and was due back at 5 p.m.

A check of all airports in the area failed to turn up any clues, and the Coast Guard launched an aerial search.

The Coast Guard dispatched a plane from Traverse City to the search area and also sent the cutter Woodrush from Duluth, Minn., and the cutter Nauyasag from Sault Ste. Marie, and also planned to dispatch a patrol craft from the Portage Lake Canal Station.

Wife's Alarm Gets Counterfeiters

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — A wife's request for police protection led to the discovery of counterfeit money printing facilities in a secret room and the arrest of her bartender husband, police said.

Secret Service officials issued an alarm for a second man and said they believed the operation was linked to a counterfeit ring that has passed more than $1 million in bogus money in the East during the past year.

Authorities gave this account: Mary Boatner requested police protection for a visit to her home after her husband, Coye, 36, had been involved in a shooting incident with another man there some 12 hours earlier.

Two patrolmen found no one home but discovered the door to one room was locked. Mrs. Boatner said her husband told her he has rented the room to a man and ordered her never to enter the room.

After forcing the lock the police said they found photographic equipment, plates and a printing press along with 35 $10 counterfeit bills. They waited and arrested Boatner when he came home at 5 p.m.

Board Candidates Favor Center Plan

Six District Board of Supervisors candidates addressed the third and final "Meet the Candidates" night on Tuesday at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The programs were sponsored jointly by the Senior Citizens Club and the Drop In Center.

Present were Republicans William Miller, Merwin White, J. P. Quick and Edward Jorgenson and Democrats Homer Weber and Thurman Skarritt. Republican Robert Hubble was not present but submitted answers to a pre-arranged questionnaire.

All candidates agreed that they favored the Senior Citizens Center concepts and that federal monies were acceptable but local administration desirable.

Eastern Stars Install Staff

Bill Miller, Seney - Germfask - Mueller candidate, suggested decentralizing the Center to make services more available to rural senior citizens. Center director Richard Marsh pointed out that he had experienced with movie programs in Germfask but attendance was so poor that the project was discontinued.

Program Needed

Miller's opponent Thurman Skarritt said he wished some program for senior citizens could be organized in the Germfask area and felt that with a little pushing some progress could be made.

Asked whether they felt support for senior citizens programs should come from local funding, the candidates said that this was fine as long as other necessary programs were not hindered by lack of money. Merwin White added that he was impressed with the local senior citizens organization and since 20 per cent of our population is composed of persons who are 65 years or older, he felt some program was needed.

As to whether or not they would support a request for local appropriation if elected to the Board of Supervisors the candidates hedged by stipulating that any funding would depend on the county's financial condition.

White said that he doubted the county would assume complete financial responsibility for the Drop In Center when federal support ceases in 1970. This is a tough problem on the local level, he said, and should not be considered a political issue. White said that he didn't consider personal politics mattered very much on the local level and added that when he served on the Board of Supervisors it was impossible to determine any man's political allegiance by his actions.

Oppose Tax Hike

What did they think about the proposal to raise the 15 mill limitation to 18 mills? Reaction was mixed.

Charles Stark of Munising, non-partisan candidate for the Alger - Schoolcraft District Judgeship, addressed the group and detailed the functions of the new District Court to be established in January.

"What will happen to Judge Howard Magoon in January when the Justice of the Peace office is abolished?" Stark was asked.

Stark replied that, assuming he was elected, he would certainly consider appointing the present Justice of the Peace as a Magistrate to handle traffic violations and certain other minor criminal penalties. However, he said that while experience shouldn't be ignored, he would accept applications from other individuals and attempt to appoint the best qualified person.

As each officer was installed, a candle was lighted by the assisting installing marshal at the station to which the officer was conducted. The new Worthy Matron, Mrs. Johnson, was escorted to her station by her step-son, Clifford Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson addressed the Chapter after the installation ceremony and presented the retiring Worthy Matron a Past Matron's Jewel, a gift of the chapter. The Retiring Patron was also presented with a gift. Mrs. Johnson also accepted a gift from the Chapter and a bouquet of roses from her daughter and family.

Officers of Jobs Daughters, Bethel 69, performed the lighted cross ceremony and installation music was provided by Mrs. Helen McGlothlin at the piano. Becky Rodgers, Honored Queen of Bethel 69, was in charge of the guest book.

Past Matrons who assisted in the installation ceremonies included Mrs. Boda Hough, installing marshal; Mrs. Helen Hall, assisting marshal; Mrs. Addie Case, installing chaplain; and Mrs. Helen McGlothlin, installing musician.

Refreshments were served by Irene Lapine, Grace Stern, Bernice Rasmussen, Mayme Gierke and Ada Livermore with Mrs. Clifford Johnson and Mrs. Walter E. Johnson assisting in the dining room.

POOR LITTLE GUY, he's ready to take a summer dip, but there's too much scum on the water even to splash around. This crevut tyke illustrates the need for Michigan voters to approve State Proposals 3 and 4 on the ballot Nov. 5. If approved, the proposals will allow the state to issue $435 million in bonds to control water pollution and improve recreational facilities. This money will be matched with federal and local funds resulting in $1.37 billion being spent in Michigan for pollution control and recreational facilities.

Feed In Woods Believed Holding U.P. Deer There

As Friday, Nov. 15 and the opening of the firearms deer season in Michigan near, hunter speculation on the size of the herd increases.

The Upper Peninsula consensus is that fewer deer have been sighted in summer and early fall than in many years and the fear has been expressed that this indicates a small herd.

Game biologists of the Michigan Conservation Department believe that field conditions have been more influential than the size of the herd in the non-sighting of deer and that there will be a good number of white-tails for hunters.

The archery deer hunt started on Oct. 1, but its results are so spottily reported, says Joseph Vogt, Escanaba District (Marquette, Delta and West Alger counties) game biologist of the Conservation Department, that it is not a reliable indicator of deer numbers.

Few Grouse

There has been little upland bird hunting because of the very low state of the grouse population and that indicator is similarly flawed.

Woods workers report grouse at the lowest ebb in their memory and conservation biologists confirm their very low numbers.

"When the leaves were down we thought we'd see more grouse," said Vogt, "but the leaves are down and the grouse aren't there. We suspect that unusually heavy rains in the nesting period may have been largely responsible. It has been proven that such rainfall affects European partridge, but we only suspect it here; we're not certain."

Wet Summer

Deer sightings by conservation workers have been down all summer, said Vogt. The same was true in September. "We hope that October results will be more optimistic," said Vogt, "and we have no feeling that they won't show up. Our carryover of deer through last winter was excellent and the does were in fine condition last spring."

"But we had a very wet summer and the vegetation restricts visibility. It also resulted in our observers spending less time in the field and especially in wetlands. There was an excellent clover crop so there was less reason for deer to be out in the fields where they could be sighted."

Vogt said Leland Wellman reported seeing 68 deer in one evening of shining recently.

Walter Palmer's preliminary report on deer productivity on Aug. 15 said that autopsying of car-killed does in the January-June gestation period was conducted this year, and that the number of does examined was down somewhat, but not alarmingly so.

"When checking the number by county, there seems to be a scarcity in some," said Palmer.

In the Upper Peninsula there were 161 does (adults and yearlings) autopsied and the number of embryos per adult doe was 1.54, whereas in 1968 there were 130 autopsied and the number of embryos averaged 1.66.

The productivity rate in the Upper Peninsula averaged 1.23 in 1951 and has never been as low since. It went as high as 1.78 in 1959 but has not been as high since. Since 1958 it has not been below 1.5.

Dr. J. Dehlin Speaks At Delta Nurses' Meet

"Taking care of the heart we have through physical fitness is more important than depending on a heart transplant," said Dr. James Dehlin, who was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Delta District Nurses Association held Tuesday evening at the House of Ludington.

Today, members of the hospital staff are responsible for early ambulation following surgery or childbirth and death rates since have fallen.

Live longer

Early ambulation prevents the pooling of blood in the circulatory system which eventually leads to blood clots and heart attacks. Applying this theory, one can actually live longer and be healthier by exercise which improves the condition of the heart.

Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper of the U. S. Air Force did actual testing with control groups and has proven that exercise will improve the circulation in the heart, lungs, thereby enabling body tissues to utilize food products with less work for the heart.

More Blood

As the heart grows stronger it is able to pump more blood with each beat. A conditioned person may have a resting heart rate of 20 beats per minute.

"Oh, My Aching Back"

This was a familiar saying born in the war years of the 40's, and as you might guess was not necessarily a physical complaint.

On the other hand, an aching back is actually no joking matter. Once the 30-year mark is passed, degeneration of spinal discs and a weakening of the ligaments joining the vertebrae may cause an unstable spine. This adds up to no small amount of pain and discomfort.

Avoid unnecessary back strain by sitting straight and sleeping straight. Instead of bending over completely to pick up something, bend the knees and lean forward from the hips.

It's a fact... you'll experience no strain at all when you bring your prescriptions to GROOS DRUG STORE. Seriously, we take pride in filling prescriptions efficiently and exactly. Use 1007 Ludington St. the home of GROOS DRUG STORE to fill all your prescriptions. Phone ST 6-3552. We have prescription delivery.

Drunken Thieves Return The Loot

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — "They'll know what to do with this," the stranger told a receptionist at a cable TV office as he set a large carton on the counter and left.

It contained a sleeping bag, a fire extinguisher, miscellaneous tools, and a note.

"We were drunk at the time we took these and decided later we really didn't want them," the note said. "The attached ($10) is to pay for the hole we cut in the wall."

An employee said the items had been taken from a microwave repeater site on Mt. Baldy.

GLADSTONE Will Comply On Water

By E. O. (Buck) ERICKSON
Of Panax Newspapers

MARQUETTE — Assurance that the City of Gladstone will comply with the state water quality standards by June 1, 1972, deadline was given at a hearing before the Michigan Water Resources Commission in the Wednesday opening session of the two-day meeting here at Holiday Inn.

Gladstone was one of the four Upper Peninsula communities summoned to appear before the commission to show cause why the state should not initiate statutory procedures to require necessary secondary waste treatment and phosphate removal by specified dates. Gladstone was represented by City Manager H. J. Henrikson and T. C. Williams, of Williams & Works, Grand Rapids engineering firm.

Henrikson told the commission that the Gladstone city council by resolution has agreed to take steps to meet the requirements with the construction of a $1 million sewage treatment plant. Williams told of the preliminary plans for an engineering study to make the necessary improvements.

John E. Vogt, of Lansing, chairman of the commission, representing the State Health Department, listed the following deadlines which Gladstone must meet: study completion, Dec. 1, 1969; approval of plans, Dec. 1, 1970; start of construction, May 1, 1971, and completion and in operation, June 1, 1972.

'Yes' On Bonds

City Manager H. J. Henrikson of Gladstone said that the city is counting heavily on the Nov. 5 pure water bonding proposal of the State of Michigan to help finance the sewage disposal project which will allow the city to conform with the Michigan Water Quality Standards Act.

Gladstone now has only a primary sewage treatment plant. The State wants the city — and it has agreed — to provide a secondary sewage treatment plant and also to remove phosphates from the effluent which it discharges into Little Bay de Noc.

Henrikson said that the $335 million water purity bonding proposal on Nov. 5 would provide Gladstone with 50 per cent of the cost of the needed sewage plant. The federal share would be 25 to 30 per cent and the rest would be supplied by Gladstone in a manner still to be determined.

village clerk, told the commission that the village has tentative plans to construct a $300,000 sewage disposal plant, but like many communities is lacking funds.

The Baraga conference was adjourned until the December meeting of the commission and Payne was instructed that the village has until Dec. 10 to file a commitment to meet the same specified deadline dates as Gladstone.

Show cause conferences before the seven-man commission are also scheduled Thursday afternoon for Iron Mountain-Kingsford and Sault Ste. Marie.

Two Michigan Schools Closed

By The Associated Press

Labor and contract disputes resulted in work stoppages by teachers Wednesday in the Clio and Mount Clemens Chippewa Valley school districts.

At Clio, the school board canceled today's scheduled classes because teachers refused Wednesday to cross picket lines set up by striking bus drivers. The drivers walked off their jobs in support of demands for an initial contract with the district.

In the Chippewa Valley district, located west of Mount Clemens, most of the 106 teachers walked off their jobs Tuesday afternoon and classes for the 2,550 pupils were canceled Wednesday.

The teachers were protesting school board efforts to insert a "grandfather" clause into their contract. The clause would exempt from agency shop provisions of the pact teachers employed before the agency shop went into effect this year. Seven of the 106 teachers reportedly would fall under a grandfather clause since they are not members of the teachers' bargaining agent, the Chippewa Valley Education Association.

Supt. Gordon E. Peckham said no classes would be held until the strike is settled. No classes, however, were set for today and Friday because of previously scheduled teachers' workshops.

Court Won't Handle Youth

Attorney Ernest Olivares, candidate for Delta County district judge, Nov. 5, addressed two history classes in Gladstone High School at request of Linda Irving, Flat Rock, a Gladstone student.

This season climaxed a "Eugene McCarthy" type campaign effort by the history classes of Steven Mitchell and Joseph Coluccio for Olivares in the Gladstone area.

Olivares explained his plan of holding court in the Rapid River and Perkins-Rock areas and possible night court sessions in order to allow citizens from all parts of the county and all income - levels to be litigants and appear to defend minor violations without losing a day's wages. He said the new proposed court rules promulgated by the court administrator in Lansing, require that a district judge be personally available on Saturday mornings for arraignments.

"Was the new court to have jurisdiction over minors?" was the most asked question.

Olivares' answer was no. The minors are to remain under the jurisdiction of Marie Peters, judge of probate. Students were advised to forget all talk about "youthful offenders" being handled by the district court.

One student suggested that candidates appear in a public forum for examination regarding qualifications. Olivares welcomed the idea.

Atty. Dean Shipman of Escanaba is the other nominee for the Delta District Judgeship on the Nov. 5 non - partisan ballot.

Receives Letters From Captive Son

DECKERVILLE (AP) — The father of an Air Force captain held prisoner by the North Vietnamese says he has received three letters from his son.

"His letters are very short," Grant Abbott of Deckerville said of the missives from Capt. Robert A. Abbott. "Just possibly four lines. That's all that gets out at a time."

Abbott said his son's letters contain little or no description of prison conditions in North Vietnam or other aspects of his imprisonment.

"He can't write anything like that," Abbott said. He declined to reveal details of the letters because, Abbott said, he is cooperating with "a general policy of the Air Force" not to divulge the information.

Capt. Abbott was captured about 18 months ago, the father said, but he gave no details of the capture. He said his son's wife lives in the Deckerville area in Michigan's "Thumb." The son has been in the Air Force for three years and 10 months, Abbott said.

'No Progress' In Buick Strike

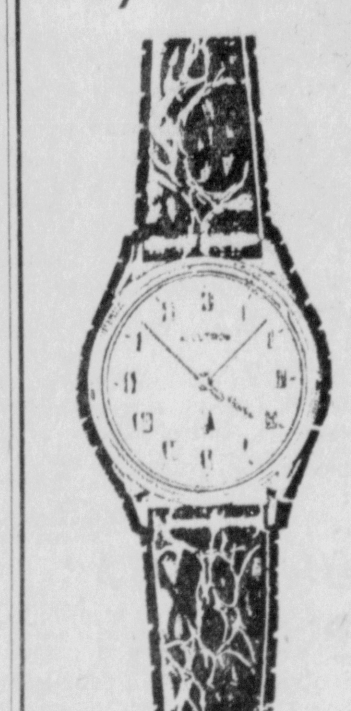

FLINT (AP) — After a report of "no progress" in Wednesday's meeting, negotiators sought again today to end the week-long strike by 17,000 United Auto Workers against the big Buick automobile complex in Flint.

Some 4,000 workers have been laid off at a companion Fisher Body plant because of the strike, and Buick spokesmen have said more workers would be laid off if parts shortages result from the walkout.

The UAW is protesting alleged speedups in parts production and on the assembly line.

Two trucking companies laid off drivers because of the lack of car production and about 50 crewmen were reported laid off by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad.

On The Sidelines

With Mike Utt

Don Pfofenhauer, head football coach at Gladstone High School, has been named to the Detroit Free Press All-State Football selection committee. Coach Pfofenhauer will rate high school players throughout the U. P. according to a formula developed by the newspaper and his recommendations will be used in the selection of the Free Press All-State first and second teams.

Gordon-Pekuri of Ironwood repeated as the U. P. individual champion in cross-country by running the two-mile course of the Marquette Country Club in 10:39. Ishpeming finished first in the meet with Ironwood and Menominee trailing. Teams from Gladstone, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, Negaunee, Calumet, Marquette, Munising and Holy Name were also entered in the event.

Bill Rademacher, a native of Menominee and the property of the New York Jets, has qualified for a pension in the American Football League as a five year player. Rademacher, a utility player for the Jets, has been used on the specialty teams, as a flanker and a defensive halfback this season. Rademacher was an end at Northern Michigan University where he set school records.

Len St. Jean, formerly of Newberry and a teammate of Rademacher's at Northern, is one of the offensive line standouts for the Boston Patriots. St. Jean was recently picked as the most underrated player on the Patriots' roster by the league coaches.

Former Kingsford High School standout Tim Kearney caught seven passes for 205 yards and two touchdowns in the Northern Michigan University freshmen football team's victory over the Hillsdale varsity reserves, 23-22, Monday afternoon. The Wildcats are now 2-0 on the season.

Bob Gale of Trout Creek is one of eight returning lettermen on the Michigan State University varsity basketball roster this season. Gale is a six foot five inch forward. The Spartans are out to improve on a 12-12 record last season, including a 6-8 mark in the Big Ten.

Pistons Triumph In Second Half

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, plagued with talk of unhappiness toward Coach Donnis Butcher before the game, roared back in the second half Wednesday night to beat the Los Angeles Lakers 117-110.

It was the Pistons' first victory in four National Basketball Association starts and matches the record of the Lakers picked unanimously to run away with honors in the Western Division this season.

In other NBA action, Boston handed Cincinnati its first defeat 106-101, Atlanta topped Chicago 106-91, New York nipped Milwaukee 114-112 and Seattle edged San Diego 118-117.

Louisville edged Indianapolis 112-108 in the only American Basketball Association game.

Dave Bing, the league's leading scorer, rifled in 18 of his 39 points in the third period as the Pistons struck from a 59-55 half-time deficit to stay in front for keeps.

Early in the final period with Detroit leading by only two points, rookie center Otto Moore flipped in a pair of baskets to spark a Detroit surge that shot the Pistons ahead by 10 points and they never were seriously threatened the rest of the way.

The Lakers played most of the second half without their all-star guard Jerry West who suffered a recurrence of a groin injury in the third quarter after scoring 19 points during the first two quarters. Elgin Baylor had 31 points and Wilt Chamberlain had 29 points plus 21 rebounds for the Lakers.

Eddie Miles, who started his first game in his six-year professional career as a forward, flipped in 28 points for the Pistons.

The Celtics, in winning their third game in as many starts, built up a big lead and then fought off a Cincinnati rally to take over first place in the Eastern Division from the Royals, 3-1.

Tom Sanders and Bailey Howell scored 21 points each and

Peninsula Preps Entering Final Week Of Grid Slates

Only two Upper Peninsula football teams are assured of finishing the 1968 grid season with unbeaten records as the majority of U. P. preps close out their seasons in games this weekend.

Marquette and DeTour finished their seasons last weekend with victories to run their records to 7-0-1, while the other two undefeated teams, Escanaba and St. Ignace still have games remaining to play. Escanaba visits city rival Holy Name at the Holy Name Athletic Field Saturday afternoon and St. Ignace has two games remaining and will close the U. P. football season on Nov. 1.

At the other end of the ladder are Houghton and Pickford, the only two U. P. teams who failed to record a victory this year. Pickford came closest to getting a victory when they tied Engadine during the fifth week of the season. Both teams have closed out their 1968 schedules.

DeTour has been the biggest point producer thus far, having scored 265 points in their eight contests, while Escanaba is a close second with 263 points and the Eskymos have one game remaining.

St. Ignace has been the stingiest team on defense, only allowing 33 points to be scored on them in their seven games. Escanaba is second in this department too, allowing only 45 points in eight games, and Gladstone is a close third, giving up 47 points in eight games.

Another big rivalry scheduled for this weekend is the Menominee-Marquette cross-town battle. The Maroons carry a 7-1 mark going into the game, their only loss coming at the hands of Escanaba. The Maroons have won their last six games and will be out to extend their streak in the big game.

Escanaba needs a victory Saturday to clinch the Great Northern Conference championship and to extend their winning streak to 20 games. The Eskymos have not lost a football game since dropping a 38-6 decision to the Marinette Marines in 1966. The only blemish on their record has been a 20-20 tie with West Iron County this season.

Menominee has already finished its conference slate and sits solidly in second place with a 4-1 record. Escanaba is leading the race with a 3-0-1 record.

Other area games this weekend will find the Gladstone Braves trying to improve on their 7-1 record against the Stephenson Eagles. It will be the last chance of the year for Stephenson to come up with its second victory. Gladstone's only loss was a 20-12 thriller to the undefeated Marquette Redmen.

One of the key attractions this weekend will find St. Ignace playing Boyne City. Both teams have perfect records and the game could decide the championship in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference. St. Ignace also sports the only perfect mark in the Upper Peninsula.

Hint Of Scandal Throws Dark Cloud On Olympics

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A breath of scandal, a hint of under-the-counter payoffs around the world, threw another darkening cloud over the 19th Olympic Games today, while the United States continued to gather a golden cascade of medals.

The Americans picked up six more gold medals Wednesday, including their first two in sports other than track and swimming, and the Russians began to make their move in gymnastics, in which 36 gold medals are awarded.

In all, the Americans now have 81 medals, including 35 gold, and the Russians have 49, with 15 gold.

Dan Ferris, 79, white-haired secretary emeritus of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union and a newly elected member of the Council of the International Athletic Federation, ruling body for track and field around the world, dropped the bombshell about commercial firms paying athletes to use their products.

"Indications are that payoffs have been made to athletes of virtually all countries," he said, and added that an "investigation centers around those athletes who did not see fit to notify their superiors of the payments. The matter is being investigated thoroughly."

He said the payoffs range from five hundred dollars to six thousand dollars.

Everett Barnes, acting director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said in a prepared statement that "at this time we have nothing to substantiate the rumors with respect to athletes subject to our jurisdiction."

"If anyone has any concrete evidence to offer about U.S. athletes in this connection we shall be pleased to follow up the information."

And Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said:

"I have not yet received any concrete evidence that any athlete has received any money. Any investigation of this kind must be undertaken by the National Federation concerned."

"Then the National Federation reports to the International Federation, and if it is proved beyond any doubt that any Olympic athlete has received money, the international federation must suspend him."

"If that happens, then any athlete who won any medal in the Mexican games automatically would forfeit it."

The controversy is only one of many that has plagued these troubled Games, but, like all the others, the effects—if any—on the athletes appear negligible.

Bill Steinkraus, 43 Noroton, Conn., riding Snowbound, won the gold medal in individual horse jumping—including one perfect round—and Gary L. Anderson, Axtell, Neb., won the free rifle competition, breaking his own world record with 1157 of a possible 2000. Russian Valentin Kornev was second at 1151.

"I think you'd have to say my experience contributes something to it," Steinkraus said after his victory. He has been a member of the American Olympic equestrian team since 1952. The United States picked up

Farr Captures Rushing Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Mel Farr of the Detroit Lions has put together two straight terrific weeks to take over the rushing lead in the National Football League.

The weekly NFL statistics show Farr gained 145 yards in 29 carries Sunday in the Lions' 14-14 tie with Green Bay. The former UCLA back had piled up 138 yards the previous week against Chicago.

Farr displaced Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears with a total of 490 rushing yards. Sayers dropped to third with 476 yards.

Leroy Kelly, the defending champ from Cleveland, had a 139-yard day in Baltimore and took over second place with 477 yards.

There was a shakeup in the passing department, too, where Bill Munson of Detroit moved into the lead and Fran Tarkenton of New York fell into third place.

The standings are based on a combination of Munson's percentage of completions (66.3), touchdown passes (9) percentage of interceptions (2.0) and average gain (9.02). The leader in touchdown passes is Earl Morrall of Baltimore with 13.

Clifton McNeil, the San Francisco flanker, maintained his lead in the receiving department with five for 52 yards against the Giants and a season total of 34 for 441 yards.

Bill Brown added another touchdown to make it 10 for the year, clinging to the scoring lead with 60 points.

Former Red Wing Trio Help Maple Leafs Win

By The Associated Press

Newly acquired Jim Pappin keeps poppin' 'em in for the Chicago Black Hawks but the Toronto Maple Leafs, who traded him, aren't about to give back Norm Ullman, Paul Henderson and Floyd Smith.

The trio of linemen, obtained from Detroit in a huge trade late last season, combined for four goals Wednesday night as the Leafs downed St. Louis 6-4.

Meanwhile, the rejuvenated Pappin fired his seventh and eighth goals of the young National Hockey League season as the Hawks whipped Pittsburgh 8-5.

The other two NHL games also saw established teams pick on their year-old expansion brothers. The New York Rangers, chief tormentors for the new clubs, crushed Oakland 6-1 and Montreal beat Los Angeles 5-2.

Goals by Henderson, Ullman and Tim Horton with in a 4½-minute stretch of the second period sparked Toronto past St. Louis and ruined Glenn Hall's season debut as the Blues' goalie.

Henderson's put the Leafs ahead to stay 4-3. It came only 29 seconds after Camille Henry's second goal of the night had pulled the Blues into a tie. Ullman then notched his second goal of the game and Horton would up the Toronto scoring.

Bobby Hull and Doug Mohns joined Pappin as two-goal scorers for Chicago while Stan Mikta and Dennis Hull had one apiece for the high-scoring Black Hawks.

Six different players scored for New York as the Rangers made it 20 wins in 27 games against expansion teams starting last season.

Bob Nevin's sixth goal of the season got the Rangers off winging.

Yvan Cournoyer scored two goals and Jean Beliveau collected a goal and a pair of assists in sparking unbeaten Montreal to its victory over Los Angeles.

LITTLE BUT DO A BIG JOB

'69 Impala Custom Coupe

Just sitting there, this '69 Chevrolet can do four things competitive cars can't:

It can wash its headlights. It can apply liquid tire chain to its rear wheels. It can silently defog or defrost the rear window. It can keep you cool or warm automatically with Comforton — the self-adjusting air-conditioning system. And once you've added all these wonderful devices to a new Chevrolet, you just can't imagine why anyone would give a second thought to a second-place car. The headlight washers and liquid tire chain for traction on slippery roads are operated at the touch of a button from the driver's seat. So is the silent new rear-window defroster. Invisible ceramic strips on the glass heat up to keep the window clear. Also available: Chevrolet's Light Monitoring System that lets you know from inside if all your outside lights are working, full four-speaker stereo, a smooth 3-speed Turbo Hydra-matic transmission. All in a car made quieter, made stronger, made more comfortable. Now at your Chevrolet dealer's. We've said it before, and we'll say it again. Match this, you other '69s! Putting you first, keeps us first.

Friends Of Pat Get An Assist From Pete Mahan

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

ESCANABA — (AP) — Quite likely Michigan's most famous chef — a cantankerous, gossipy Irishman with a heart as big as a $15 pumpkin — is going to be guest of honor Sunday at a citizens-sponsored cocktail party and banquet.

Despite a $12-a-head tab and the possibility "it may be the occasion for all of us being thrown out en masse," the "Friends of Pat" are having to put a limit on the number of tickets.

There just isn't a place in town big enough to hold all the "Friends of Pat," not even his own famous hotel.

Pat is Harold Clement Hayes, who not only is chef, but also owner and king of the domain known as the House of Ludington, an oasis to which many have pushed hundreds of miles in a single day for food, drink and lodging.

Now 73

Pat, now 73, has been a bit puny and confined mostly to his suite in recent weeks. "A touch of the flu," he says, but friends recall a cancer operation months back and the fact his appearances have been limited since.

A group of young businessmen, who one suspects was given the name of "Wheel Club" by Pat himself, is throwing the "Friends of Pat" party. They are regular luncheon patrons.

The city council has taken note of and applauded the "appreciation dinner." Tickets are limited to 200.

Not Well Done

Pat, whose crown normally is a towering white chef's hat, is a character sought out by many, both commoner and titan, but he isn't the world's most popular monarch.

He has ruffled a good many peasants over the years — the last 28 of them in the House of Ludington. It has happened that a steak ordered well done has resulted in an invitation to leave the Emerald Room, because: "you don't make shoe leather out of fine meat."

Pale green lights of the cocktail lounge once shimmered upon a sign back of the bar,

Dirksen Backing Waterway Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said Wednesday that a proposed barge waterway from the Ohio River to Lake Erie and Lake Michigan "could insure revitalization of this great heartland area of the nation."

His statement came in a telegram to an Army Corps of Engineers hearing on the proposed waterway, which would link the Ohio with the Great Lakes via the Wabash River and adjacent streams.

At the hearing, the project was supported by a spokesman for the Wabash Valley Association and opposed by representatives of the Illinois Federation of Sportsman's Clubs and the Izaak Walton League.

"It is time to get this long-overdue waterway started," H. Phil Pearce, president of the Wabash Valley Association, said. "It will provide the needed link to help tie Chicago and the southeastern part of Illinois together for mutual benefit."

Griffin Argues Misuse Of Mail

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Michigan Sen. Robert P. Griffin said Wednesday that censorship is involved in the Post Office Department's attempts to require payment for a newsletter mailed during Griffin's 1966 election campaign. He made the remarks during a Republican "Truth Squad" campaign visit.

"We were quoting the statement of a cabinet official," Griffin said at a news conference. "If you can't report what a cabinet official says, then we face a problem of censorship."

Griffin said the newsletter in question quoted statements by Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman.

The Post Office Department said Tuesday Griffin misused his free mailing privileges when he mailed out the newsletter in 1966 during his campaign against former Democratic Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

"We understood 13 months ago that this matter had been settled," Griffin said. "It appeared in the Congressional Record."

Idaho Sen. Lynn B. Jordan, accompanying Griffin on their campaign swing through the Southwest, said the Post Office action was "political harassment."

He associated the action with Griffin's successful flight to block the nomination of Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice.

"Sen. Griffin believed in his principles and stood up and won," Jordan said.

Seize Anti-Castro Group; Planned To Kill Ambassador

NEW YORK (AP) — The arrest of nine anti-Castro Cubans has forestalled plans to assassinate the Cuban ambassador to the United Nations, and to raid a National Guard armory, says Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Alfred J. Scotti.

The nine were seized Wednesday in predawn raids and charged with a series of bombings here of offices of nations that trade with Cuba.

The second stage of the revolutionary plan, Scotti said, specifically included killing Cuba's U.N. Ambassador Dr. Ricardo Alarcon de Quesada and theft of munitions from the 106th Infantry Armory in Brooklyn.

The third phase, Scotti said, was the bombing and destruction of foreign ships used in Cuban trade.

Arresting officers reportedly uncovered a cache of guns — some equipped with silencers — as well as loaded pistols and Army uniforms.

The nine men have been indicted by a Manhattan grand jury on charges of arson, reckless endangerment, criminal mischief and the illegal possession of weapons and explosives.

All were held in bail ranging in amounts from $7,500 to $25,000. A hearing was set for Nov. 7.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

reading: "Gentlemen to your health! Your drinks are limited." That meant two martinis or two Manhattans, which come big at Pat's place.

No Embalming

Mary Dowling, queen of all trades and straw boss in Hayes' absence, explained: "We run a cocktail lounge, not an embalming parlor." And, Mary adds, "he's been badgering us to get the sign up again." It came down in a remodeling.

Until illness intervened, Pat made the kitchen his throne room, and he explained the sign in the bar by grumbling: "A drunk couldn't appreciate the taste of snub baked in canteen and stuffed with brandy peaches."

Dea Gallagher, like Mary Dowling, has been a Hayes employee for more than 20 years. She keeps the books and writes the letters and gives the boss an argument when he tries to pour more money into the House of Ludington than he's getting out of it — which, she says, is often.

Needles Politics

Michigan's most famous chef is a native of Boston and obtained his epicurean artistry as a Chicago demonstrator — salesman of hotel equipment. It was on a business trip to this Lake Michigan port of 16,000 that he had a vision about what could be done with the then nearly 100-year-old, 114-room hotel.

He scraped together $34,000 to buy it. Since, he estimates, more than $700,000 have gone into improvements.

Needling is a pastime with Pat, especially with politicians. His dark Irish eyes twinkle as he sinks the verbal needle deep in colorful, explicit language not likely to gain him any merit marks on St. Peter's slate.

Often, though, his wit comes when Pat puts on what John Voelker describes as an "innocent, scrubbed altarboy smile."

Unlike as it seems, Pat is a politician himself. He got himself appointed to the Delta County Board of Supervisors and won a battle to get Pinecrest, a home for the aged in nearby Powers, converted into a medicare center, which now is a community pride.

Michigan Woman Found Near Death In Chicago Suburb

CHICAGO (AP) — A Michigan woman, shot three times and found wandering in a field northwest of Chicago, told police today she was thrown from her car by two men she met in a Kalamazoo, Mich., tavern.

The victim was identified as Sally Heaton, 31, of Mattawan, Mich., a small community near Kalamazoo.

She was reported in critical condition in a hospital in Arlington Heights, a northwestern suburb of Chicago.

Miss Heaton was shot twice in the head and once in the arm. During brief periods of consciousness she told police she was assaulted twice by the two men described as being in their 30s.

A passing motorist saw Miss Heaton wandering in a field near the Illinois Tollway and Barrington Road. He took her to a hospital and authorities were notified.

The FBI was called into the case because interstate violation may be involved.

Miss Heaton also said she was robbed.

On arriving at the camporee site the Scouts will set up their tents and prepare their campsites for the weekend. Following breakfast Saturday the action begins. Competitive events involving Scout skills will be held throughout the day. After the evening meal, Scouts will gather at campfire for songs, skits, fun and fellowship. Catholic Appeal Has 1st Victory

The Rev. Edward J. Wenzel, pastor of St. Stanislaus Church in Goetzville and Our Lady of the Snows in Hessel, announced Wednesday that his parishes, with over $7,600 already pledged in the special gifts phase of the first annual U. P. Catholic Services Appeal have surpassed 150 per cent of the $5,000 goal.

Father Wenzel noted that several teams have yet to report the results of their visits. With calls yet to be made on other special gift prospects and the general phase prospects still to be called on, his parishes should have no trouble in doubling their assigned target, he said. Father Wenzel attributed success in his parish to the dedication of his workers and the generosity of his people in responding to the needs of the Diocese.

The first annual Catholic Services Appeal is aimed at supporting the many Catholic social services of the Diocese of Marquette, retiring of diocesan indebtedness and the accumulating of funds to aid in the Diocesan program to help the underprivileged.

As hundreds of volunteer workers in the diocese began their calls on its 30,000 Catholic families, data on the diocesan budget and departments involved was released.

Bishop Charles A. Salatk reported that operational expenses in the 1968-69 budget total $348,775 with only $200,000 in sight from conventional diocesan sources of income from the U. P. parishes without the Appeal.

In addition there is capital indebtedness of $1.3 million which will be retired over 5 or 6 years with annual Appeal income. Largest single diocesan debt is the Bishop Noa Home for Senior Citizens in Escanaba, $860,000.

With $257,550 for paying capital debts, $120,000 for capital expense ($100,000 for poverty program revolving fund and $20,000 for new parish sites) the total budget for the diocese is $726,325.

A television program over WLUC-TV at 12:45 CST Saturday, Nov. 2 will present an interview by Don Lang with Bishop Salatk and Jean Worth, lay diocesan chairman of the Appeal, on the campaign.

Appeal Sunday, Nov. 3, will see the most concentrated effort of the campaign.

Jr. Librarians To Hear Author

Library assistants from Upper Peninsula high schools and junior high schools will meet here Saturday for their third annual Student Library Assistants' Conference.

Sponsored and planned by the Michigan Association of School Librarians, U. P. District, the conference is expected to bring about 150 young people to Escanaba Area High School.

A feature of this year's conference is the appearance of a Michigan writer, Mrs. Martha Bennett Stiles, who will talk of her experiences in writing for young people. A resident of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Stiles has published several short stories and three junior novels, the most recent being "Darkness Over the Land," a story of Nazi Germany. Her talk will be followed by an autographing session, at which time autographed copies of this book may be purchased.

The morning program for the conference will feature a book repair workshop directed by a representative of Bro-Dart Industries, Inc., and a recruitment film and talk by Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, consultant for the State Library.

Mrs. Stiles' visit is made possible through the generosity of the Escanaba Women's Club. All persons who wish to hear Mrs. Stiles speak, are welcome, without charge. The time is 1:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The public is invited to attend a meeting to be held at Northern Michigan University at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 30 regarding the Zone III, Health Planning Council Health Education Study. The meeting is in conjunction with the Health Behavior Inventory program on the same day.

C&H Strike Is Depressant On UOP Earnings

DES PLAINES, Ill. — Universal Oil Products Co., reported net income of $11 million or $1.20 per share for the nine months ended Sept. 30, compared to $11 million or $1.24 for the same period last year. Third quarter net was $3,442,459 or 36 cents per share, compared to $4,556,734 or 47 cents per share for the third quarter in 1967.

Pre-tax income for the nine-month period rose 14.3 per cent to $24.3 million compared to $21.3 million for the same period last year. However, the effective tax rate rose from 44 per cent for the first nine months of 1967 to 52 per cent for the nine months just completed.

Primarily because of favorable results from its Wolverine Division, Calumet & Hecla's operations are running ahead of a year ago, but were comparably lower for the quarter, notably because of a strike at the Calumet Division that began Aug. 21. There were also less favorable showings by other divisions of Universal's C & H subsidiary.

Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife at Portland, Ore., from 1963 to 1966 and with the Canadian Department of Fisheries at Halifax, Nova Scotia from June, 1967, until his move to the Michigan Department of Conservation Oct. 21.

His work with the Bureau of Sports Fisheries included hatchery duty that involved the raising of chinook, coho and Atlantic salmon as well as steelhead, cutthroat, brook and brown trout. His Canadian work was aimed at developing methods of raising Atlantic salmon and brook trout commercially in sea water at Nova Scotia.
